What's on the Web?

- Primary sources
 - ▣ Created at time of the event by those involved.
- Secondary sources
 - ▣ Any sources in print that do not come from a contemporary or government record.
- Several types of publishers
 - ▣ Governments, libraries, genealogy societies, family history researchers
- Free and paid sites
 - ▣ Free sites anyone can access, anytime
 - ▣ Subscription databases

What's on the Web?

- Census
- Vital records
- Newspaper indexes
- Passenger and immigration records
- Military information
- Cemetery readings

What's on the Web?

- Read database descriptions

- ▣ Coverage information

- Counties or places
 - Time period

- ▣ Source information

- Information formats

- ▣ Indexes

- ▣ Abstracts

- ▣ Transcriptions

- ▣ Databases

- ▣ Digitized records

What's Evidence?

- Where did the information originate?
- Who created the information?
- Who put the information online?
- Pay attention to the source
 - Is it authoritative? Can you trust it as proof?
- Note where you find information in case you need to return to that source.

Research Strategies

- What holes do you need to fill?
 - Start with what you know and work backward
- Investigate what information a site offers
- Librarian-recommended sites
 - Sites recommended in genealogy books
- Not everything is online
 - Mix Internet resources with in-library research
- Online genealogy how-to books

About the Index

Welcome to our Online Obituary Index web site! The Public Libraries of Saginaw maintains an index of over 200,000 obituaries from the Saginaw News. We are adding new data everyday from earlier newspapers and from the most current issues of the Saginaw News. We are a leading library in this endeavor and greatly appreciate your usage.

SOME SEARCH GUIDELINES

The search fields shown above can be used to specifically search the last name and/or date of death fields in the database. This easy to use search form can handle most of your search needs. It does require that your browser be javascript enabled. Separate your keywords with "AND" or "OR" to facilitate better searches. See the Search Tips for hints on how to narrow your search.

Please Note: When doing a 'Name Only' search on a two word name (i.e. St. Mary) use the word 'AND' between the search words for accurate results. (Example: To search for St. Mary enter: St. AND Mary.)

Pattern Match Search Guide

- Use * to search for zero or more characters before or after the search term. Examples: Jef* returns Jeff, Jeffrey, Jefferson, etc. Ste*en returns Steven, Stephen, etc. *alton returns Dalton, Walton, etc. Using a * before and after a search term will find that term anywhere in the field.
- Use _ to replace a single character with a wildcard character. Examples: J_n returns Jan, Jen, Jon, etc. _an returns Dan, Ian, Jan etc. Je_ returns Jeb, Jed, Jen, etc. Multiple _ may be used.
- Last names may include both maiden and married names. To search this field for one of the names, use this format: name.

Currently, death records are available for the following counties and years. Check back often as we continue to add more.

Important: The records were all handwritten and in many cases very difficult to read due to incidences of faded ink, microfilm quality, illegible script, etc. It is suggested that you look at all conceivable variations of the spelling of your ancestors' names.

Some letters particularly caused problems - for instance was it a "u", "v", "w", "m" or "n"? Also, it is to be noted that the recorder misspelled many names as well. Be particularly mindful of misspellings and abbreviations of given names, i.e. Wm., Jas., Jno., etc. What is listed in this index is what was seen since it is impossible to know whether a name was a misspelled or whether it was a deviation of the correct spelling.

Michigan Cemetery Sources

Update: Burials added!

When you "view" a cemetery, look at the "burials" column and "click to view" the names of the persons buried. This is a work in progress. We want to thank the many contributors for making these names available on the internet.

History and Description

The Michigan Cemetery Sources web site represents a compilation of published cemetery transcriptions located at the Library of Michigan and links to Michigan cemetery websites. This database also identifies the location of over 3,700 cemeteries in Michigan. It is NOT intended to include a list of personal names.

The compilation of this data began before computers were widely used. This information has been gathered from a variety of sources. Staff identified Michigan cemetery transcriptions in the Library and created a card file to aid in finding materials. Materials provided by the State Archives of Michigan and the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation concerning the defunct Michigan Cemetery Commission were also of great value in identifying the existence and location of cemeteries.

Much of this searchable information was published in the Michigan Cemetery Atlas and the Michigan Cemetery Source Book. The web site also contains information received by the Library since the Atlas (1991) and Source Book (1994) were published.

This site is a work in progress that will be updated as the Library catalogs additional transcriptions received for Michigan cemeteries and adds links from the Internet

Michigan County Histories and Atlases

The Michigan County Histories and Atlases Digitization Project is comprised of 362 digitized titles (many composed of multiple volumes) published before 1923. The collection offers all members of the community free keyword searching and page-by-page access to digitized reproductions of Michigan county histories and atlases as a resource for historical and genealogical research. The collection is made possible, in part, through a generous Library Services and Technology Act \(LSTA\) grant. Additional funding was provided by Michigan Council of Library Directors institutions and a Michigan Digitization and Preservation for Access grant. Titles were selected from Frances Loomis's Michigan Biography Index (Detroit: Detroit Public Library, 1946), William Miles' Michigan Atlases and Plat Books (Lansing: State Library Services, 1975), Bentley Historical Library holdings, and the Research Publications microfilm publication County and Regional Histories of the Old Northwest.

HISTORIC MICHIGAN

declaration that the Americans had ever intended to drive the Indians away west of the 'Father of Waters.'" (Quarter Centennial Celebration of the Settlement of Kalamazoo, p. 63).

It is a remarkable fact that a number of the largest cities today were established on the sites of Indian villages, or trading posts. The pioneer trader was the first business man. A letter written about 1869 by Louis Campau, noted Grand river trader, who for years maintained a post at Kalamazoo, is evidence of this fact. Mr. Robison wrote:

"Before and a short time after the War of 1812 there was a line of trading Indian villages from Ypsilanti to the mouth of the St. Joseph river, located as follows: At places where now are Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Gull Prairie, Kalamazoo, Prairie Ronde, South Bend and St. Joseph—all of the Potawatamie tribe.

When Titus Bronson, the eccentric personage who founded Bronson, which afterward became Kalamazoo, arrived in 1829 he found that traders had long preceded him. "Kekalamazoo," the Indian town, had been widely known for decades in the Michigan peninsula. Various traders had frequented the valley, some of them having temporary residence, others making annual trips for bartering purposes.

of southwestern Michigan was ceded to the government, with the

Michigan Genealogical Council

Founded in 1972, the Michigan Genealogical Council is an organization composed of two delegates from each member society. Its objectives are to locate, preserve, publish and deposit in suitable repositories records of value to genealogists and to initiate activities which encourage and assist those who are involved in genealogical research. Meetings are held at the Library of Michigan in Lansing on the second Thursday of September, November, January, March, May and July. Membership is open to any Michigan genealogical or family history society, amateur or professional, with a primary interest in genealogy.
